WHEREAS, California's local communities continue to suffer from the tragic effects of gun violence; and

WHEREAS, gun violence cuts short thousands of lives and depresses the quality of life for those who have been affected; and

WHEREAS, the California Violence Intervention and Prevention (CalVIP) grant program, administered by the Board for of State and Community Corrections (BSCC), provides competitive grants to cities and nonprofit organizations that implement evidence-based violence reduction initiatives in impacted communities; and

WHEREAS, CalVIP has helped to fund Operation Ceasefire in Oakland, which led to a 52% reduction in shootings since 2012; and

WHEREAS, CalVIP has helped to fund violence prevention and intervention programs in Richmond, Stockton and Los Angeles resulting in reductions in shootings in each of those cities; and

WHEREAS, CalVIP has never been codified in statute; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Bill (AB) 1603 (Wicks) would establish the CalVIP grant program and strengthen its existing requirements by:

- ~~Removing low award caps in order to make sustained and meaningful investments in communities with the greatest need for those resources;~~

- Strengthening CalVIP's eligibility requirements to focus on communities that have the highest numbers and rates of homicides;
- Narrowing CalVIP's focus to programs that demonstrate the strongest likelihood of reducing violence, and those that work with individuals at highest risk of being a victim or perpetrator of community violence in the near future;
- Requiring BSCC to focus on initiatives that do not contribute to mass incarceration;
- Requiring city grantees to distribute at least half of their CalVIP award to community-based organizations and/or public agencies or departments, other than law enforcement agencies or departments, that are primarily dedicated to community safety;
- Requiring BSCC to seek input from people directly impacted by violence and those with experience implementing violence reduction initiatives; and

WHEREAS, AB 1603 is supported by numerous groups and organizations, including, Gifford's Law Center to Prevent Gun Violence, Ella Baker Center for Human Rights, National Institute for Criminal Justice Reform, Children's Defense Fund, Urban Peace Institute, and Youth Alive!; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That the Oakland City Council hereby endorses AB 1603 and urges the California State Legislature and Governor Gavin Newsom to support its enactment into law.
