

AGENDA REPORT

TO: Police Commission

FROM: John Alden
Executive Director, CPRA

SUBJECT: CPRA Monthly Report, June 2020

DATE: June 22, 2020

Attached are the CPRA's monthly statistical reports to the Police Commission, as required by Charter. This month, those include:

- Pending Cases, one sorted by one-year goal and the other by assigned staff;
- Closed Cases, including policy recommendations;
- Pending Demonstration Related Cases.

As one can see from this list, this month we have separated out those cases relating to recent demonstrations into a special report. Those number over thirty cases, are all Charter-mandated, and normally would be assigned to Complaint Investigators. These cases therefore would double the current caseload assigned to Complaint Investigators and have already created additional workload for CPRA intake staff. These cases simply cannot be investigated by CPRA without additional funding. CPRA has estimated that temporary staff to handle this surge would cost approximately $800,000 in the upcoming fiscal year.

The closed cases this cycle resulted in a variety of policy recommendations, including recommendations that OPD create new policies for handling the children of arrested parents, including how to communicate back to the arrested parents about the safety and security of their children upon their arrest. OPD currently lacks a policy in this regard, which creates inconsistent and detrimental handling of both the effected children and parents. Other jurisdictions have created policies in this regard that could serve as a model.

Likewise, the closed cases this cycle include recommendations as to modernizing missing persons procedures at OPD and coordinating those procedures with social media policy.

Should time permit at this week's Commission meeting, staff can provide more detailed information as to all of these matters if so desired.

CPRA Made the following Training Recommendations with Respect to Investigations in this Report

Training
Recommendation(s)

The CPRA recommends that OPD consider implementing a policy that addresses the expectations and responsibilities of officers to communicate about the placement of children when involved in incidents involving parents and children

CPRA Made the following Policy Recommendations with Respect to Investigations in this Report

Policy
Recommendation(s)

The CPRA recommends that OPD work with the proper legal advisers to bring DGO O-6 – Missing Persons up to date as quickly as is practicable, including the following specific edits:

- a) The DGO references Penal Code section 14213 for the definition of an “at risk” individual; in 2017, the Legislature renumbered that section and the definition is now contained in Penal Code section 14215.
- b) The DGO references Penal Code section 14205, and talks about steps to take when a missing person is under the age of 16 or “at risk”. That section was renumbered in 2015, and also revised to include persons under the age of 21, not 16.

Additionally, the department should independently double-check the DGO against current law, and consult with current subject matter experts for recent changes in best practices.

The CPRA recommends that officers taking statements should be required to activate their PDRDs in order to have video available for subsequent review. Such language was included in the last proposed edits to the Department’s PDRD policy, however that policy has not yet taken effect.

The CPRA recommends that the Department continue to review its social media policy and make recommendations for appropriate revisions. Those should include:

- a) Comparing OPD policy to that of other jurisdictions for best practices;
- b) Creating specific guidance in missing persons cases as to when social media should and should not be used, including consultation with family members of the missing person;
- c) Having a central mid-level member (likely professional, not sworn) designated to monitor the overall use of the Department’s social media platforms with an eye towards ensuring consistent messaging to the community about the Department’s priorities.
