Original description: Again, this year, we ask that the City inspect 5876 McAndrew for ongoing worsening violations of Oakland's fire and blight ordinances. A forest of dead, dry trees and vegetation surround the decayed house, with a rotted wood roof with holes in the shingles. A plastic tarp partially covers the roof, and tarpaper provides the siding for the lower front of the house. There is a huge pile of wooden debris in the back yard, and overgrown dried grasses, plants and vines. In the backyard, a eucalyptus tree strangled with by has fallen branches held up by other branches - there is dry vegetation surrounding it. There is an abandoned car in front. The owner does nothing and is hostile. She has failed all annual fire inspections, yet the vegetation thickens, the property deteriorates and the blight worsens each year. Neighbors on McAndrew, Estates and Wood have expressed concern about the property's ever-present hazard and its risk to our homes. We again ask for the City's assistance, as the resident refuses to make her property safe and habitable. We have many pictures, but cannot attach on this website.	DENIED	94611

The paint job only goes halfway up the building and there are unplanted patches on the stucco. There seem to be many units tucked into different portions of the building. Given that it is directly across from a school, children have to look at it every day. I am not sure if there is a specific code that is violated but I am hoping the owner can be encouraged to take better care of the property and present a more inviting visual presence to the community. The outward appearance may be reflected as unsafe conditions within the building.	APPROVED	94601

The Complainant is a renter of the resident home, which is also home to two children, ages 5 months and 2 years old. The subject property home exterior is significantly deteriorated, with paint chips peeling and chipping from subject home, taking off onto subject property grass, bare soil and complainant's driveway. Recent unpermitted work on home, performed in March 2019 by a contractor whose name is "Gree" whom owner has advised lacks lead certification, including gutter removal and replacement, resulted in significant pieces of painted debris from pre-1978 home falling into surrounding property, as illustrated in photos, and left there for days, until complainant had someone come by to remove the debris. But debris resulted in visible paint chips in soil, grass, and driveways of subject and adjacent property; no abatement or remediation done. Owner has refused to complete lead site assessment, lead-certified paint stabilization and lead-certified soil hazard abatement. Owner will not provide the contractor's full name or contractor license.	DENIED	94609

My understanding is that construction workers are not allowed to engage in noisy construction on Sundays. Construction workers are parking in the emergency turnaround every day. This turnaround is required by law to be kept clear for emergency vehicles. They have parked there every day for weeks and when I've asked them to move they just shrug and say there's nowhere else to park. They are also blocking in my car every day, so that I have to go find someone to move their cars every time I want to use my car. On Saturday April 20, they set up work tables in the middle of the emergency turnaround and spent the day cutting wood there.	APPROVED	94611

Weeds and trash. 5/12/19 Additional complaint: Possible violation of conditional-use permits. Occupants of property have not run a trucking business from this property in years. Mostly random storage of scrap, storage and repair of RVs. There appear to have been no follow-up inspections regarding demo and electrical permit (expired). This lot has been a blight on the neighborhood for more than a decade.	DENIED	94607

When they turned the water back on, the faucets were turned on in the apartment unbeknownst to the tenant. The water flooded the apartment for days. I believe that the flooding caused a huge crack in the stucco right below the sink area (right south side of building) that spans approx 8 feet. Then landlord attempted to repair with some sort of patching material. The job was obviously done subpar and the material is now cracking and has never been painted over. I am concerned about the foundation and structure of the house. The landlord is extremely neglectful of the property in general. On the same side of the building there is a drain that clogged, created major water intrusion and created a big hole in the building. The hole was patched but never painted. The landlord removed some vines that attached to the house on the same side and never painted over it. I have complained before and have noticed that This landlord does the absolute minimum repair and hires substandard unlicensed contractors to do shoddy work without finishing the job. I fear for my neighbors and also fear that the foundation and structure is weak due to years and years of neglect. I am documenting all of these complaints in the event that there's an earthquake or something very unfortunate happens to someone living in the building that will cause the landlord/owner take on the liability for their lack of maintenance and repair. The city also has a responsibility that I hope they will take seriously.	DENIED	94606
