

Tenant Move-Out Agreement Ordinance

(O.M.C. 8.22.700 et seq.)

Effective May 1, 2018, the Oakland City Council passed the Tenant Move-Out Ordinance (TMOO) which affords protections to tenants who are offered move-out agreements by their property owners. These protections apply where a tenant accepts payments in exchange for an agreement to vacate a rental unit protected by the Just Cause for Eviction provisions in Oakland Municipal Code Section 8.22.300. Most rental units are covered by the Just Cause for Eviction provisions, including some units that are not rent controlled.

Under TMOO, a tenant has the following rights when considering whether to accept a property owner's move-out offer:

- The right NOT to enter into a move-out agreement:
The tenant may refuse any move-out offer and the property owner is prohibited from retaliating for refusing the offer.
- A twenty-five (25) day right to rescind:
The tenant may rescind the move-out agreement within twenty-five (25) days after it is fully executed.
- The right to consult an attorney:
The tenant has the right to consult with an attorney before deciding whether to accept a move-out offer.

The City of Oakland's Tenant Relocation Ordinance requires property owners to make relocation payments to their tenants under certain circumstances in which the tenants are displaced or evicted through no fault of their own. Tenants are not required to agree to move out for the amounts set by the Tenant Relocation Ordinance, and any move-out agreement for less than the Tenant Relocation Ordinance amounts is voidable. The base payment amounts set forth in by the Tenant Relocation Ordinance depend on the size of the unit and adjust for inflation annually on August 1st. The payment amounts beginning August 1, 2024, through July 31, 2025, are:

- $8,042.34 per studio/one-bedroom unit
- $9,898.26 per two-bedroom unit
- $12,218.17 per three-or-more-bedroom unit
