

Dan's October Newsletter

Greetings {{FirstName or 'Neighbor'}},

I hope everyone had a wonderful summer. The City Council resumed its normal formal activities on Tuesday, September 12th, with Council committee meetings. We are considering key legislation and many other items before the end of the year as we look to address the most pressing issues facing Oakland right now. At the forefront of most everyone's mind is the serious challenge of public safety. Crime in Oakland has gone up over the past year and we are working diligently to address this reality.

On September 19th, the city council passed a Public Safety Resolution that I sponsored. This resolution will (1) improve our 911 dispatch system by working to recruit and retain dispatchers and address grand jury recommendations, (2) moves forward a lateral police academy that could hire experienced officers, (3) requests additional FBI investigators to help OPD investigate homicides and shootings, (4) authorizes high-tech cameras on freeway on-ramps and creates a grant program so retail business associations can purchase such cameras, (5) starts the process for the Chief of Police to institute a permanent neighborhood beat officer deployment plan and to look seriously at instituting a citywide community ambassador deployment plan as well, (6) bolsters our CeaseFire violence intervention program, (7) seeks additional funds for vital reentry programs in Alameda County, (8) urges OPD to step up their operations in coordination with federal authorities to confiscate illegal guns, (9) takes action to expand Oakland's MACRO civilian response program, and more. Implementation of this Resolution will help us address the increase in crime that we have seen in our city.

Additionally, I'm working on an ordinance updating the enabling ordinance for the Police Commission, the Community Police Review Agency and the Office of the Inspector General, along with Councilmember Jenkins. My office is also working on an ordinance adding a firearm procurement policy to the Oakland Municipal Code, along with Councilmember Kaplan.

As always, we must take a comprehensive approach to public safety and crime reduction. Prevention, Intervention and Enforcement are all part of the answer. I support having sufficient police officer overtime, improving 911 dispatch hiring and retention, and walking beat officers where needed. Restoring the budget of the Department of Violence Prevention and building our CeaseFire and MACRO programs over time is also critically important.

Best,
Dan

Oakland's Police Chief Search

As mentioned in my last newsletter, the Oakland Police Commission solicited community input on what the next Oakland Police Chief should have as qualifications and experience, as well as what their priorities should be. The Police Commission has taken that feedback and has a draft of the job description on their website. I'm glad the commission has taken the public's feedback and I hope they can act fast in recruiting, interviewing candidates, and selecting the finalists for the position of our permanent Chief of Police.

LGBTQ+ PRIDE MONTH DISTRICT 1 HONOREE SARAH CROWELL

"I have felt the love in the Destiny community and the City of Oakland for the 30 years that I made Destiny my home - as a teacher, an executive director, an artistic director, and a student in the way of authentic collaborative community. I cannot thank the City of Oakland enough for giving life to a space that holds the minds, bodies and hearts of so many brilliant young artists dedicated to social justice and joy. Destiny's mission is to inspire and ignite social change through the arts and that's what it does every single day."

I am proud to select Sarah Crowell as District 1's LGBTQ+ Pride Month's Honoree. Sarah has been an outstanding asset to our community through her work at Destiny Arts Center. Sarah believes that the arts are an essential component of the journey to social justice. Through her work at Destiny Arts, Sarah has helped uplift youth voice, supporting pathways for young people to express themselves, advocate for justice and equity, fight against the systemic racism that continues to impact BIPOC youth, and build a community where everyone feels seen, valued, and free. I couldn't imagine our district and our city without her.

Creek to Bay Day

2023 marks the 28th anniversary of Oakland Creek to Bay Day, held in conjunction with California and International Coastal Cleanup Day, one of the largest organized volunteer days in California, the nation, and 100 other participating countries. Annually, thousands of volunteers come together to remove litter from waterways, shorelines, and upstream areas around the world.

Individuals and households can be a part of this 28th anniversary event by pitching in to clean up coastal areas across the city, as well as pledging and committing to actions from our homes to protect watersheds. We also encourage residents, neighborhoods, and local organizations to adopt spots and drains in Oakland to clean year round!
